FIVE

FIVE introduces Modern European gastronomy guided by Japanese finesse, expressed through the five core elements — Gomi | Taste, Goshiki | Colour, Goho | Cooking, Gotei | Moderation, Gokan | Senses.

This guiding philosophy shapes the seasonal tasting menu with an experimental and progressive approach.

GOMI

TASTE

Gomi refers to the five tastes of "Sweetness", "Sourness", "Saltiness", "Bitterness" and "Spiciness".

GOSHIKI

COLOUR

In the preparation and plating of Japanese cuisine, special emphasis is placed on the use of five colors. Those colors are red, yellow, blue (green), white and black, and are used to express the excellence of Japanese cuisine.

GOHO

COOKING

Japanese cooking can be broken down into five basic cooking methods. These are "Nama" (cutting), "Niru" (simmering), "Yaku" (grilling), "Musu" (steaming) and "Ageru" (deep-frying).

GOTEI

MODERATION

Gotei refers to the five degrees of moderation — heat, ingredients, volume, technique and attitude.

GOKAN

SENSES

Gokan refers to the five senses of "Sight", "Hearing", "Smell", "Touch" and "Taste".
